HISTORY

PUGET SOUND ASSOCIATION OF PHI BETA KAPPA HISTORY 2003-2012

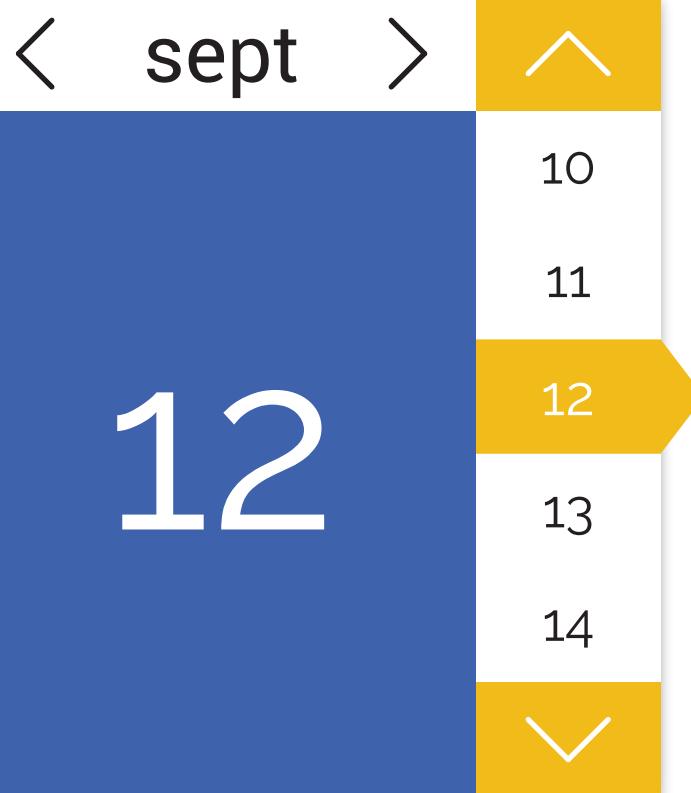

The Puget Sound Association was conceived and created in 1952 by the Washington Alpha Chapter, whose members rightly concluded that a means should be found to encourage the pursuit of liberal education by financially supporting students, and that establishing an agency independent of Alpha Chapter was the way to do so.

The child has now reached middle age (that point keeps advancing) but its connection with its parent who is approaching its centenary was never broken and is now stronger than ever. Alpha's president and its executive secretary, if a PBK member, are ex-officio members of the PSA board and serve on its committees, and the association and Alpha sponsor joint events. A similar pattern exists with respect to Delta Chapter at the University of Puget Sound. Our connection with the Phi Beta Kappa Society is also strong: at the very beginning of this 10-year period, the society honored our request to host its 2003 Triennial Council meeting in Seattle.

A word now about PSA-PBK's board of trustees. We are doubly fortunate in the present composition of the board. There were in the past, and there are right now, board members who have served more than 40, 30, and 20 years, such as Ernie Stiefel, Myra Lupton, Vivian Chun, Stu Prestrud, Karen Klotz, and Redmond Barnett. They and others approaching this multi-decade-long service know the institution, its history, and the community, and they are the gurantors for the preservation of Phi Beta Kappa values. The other fortunate circumstance is that the determined effort by these members of long tenure to attract younger Phi Betes to join the board was successful. To name just a few, Benjamin Lukoff, Daniel Leach, Aspasia Bartell, Greg Bianchi, William Mari, and Sandra Andrews-Strasko have been of inestimable value in moving the association forward into the rapidly changing present, in particular making use of the opportunities presented by social networking. In addition, they are most helpful in inducing recent initiates to become

UNDERGRADUATE SCHOLARSHIPS

Because her essay was judged by the committee the most outstanding, Sierra Danielle Boyce was named the Ellsworth C. Alvord Jr. Scholar for the academic year 2016, which entitles her to receive an additional $400. The late Dr. Alvord, a member of PSA-PBK, was an outstanding physician, scientist, philanthropist, and humanitarian who dedicated his life to medical research and support of the local arts and sciences. We wish all of them great success in their future academic endeavors.

Thanks to your donations and dues payments, we were able to award scholarships of $2,000 each to the following five University of Washington and University of Puget Sound undergraduate students with financial needs: Sierra Danielle Boyce (UW: psychology), Alison Kuo (UW: biochemistry; medical anthropology and global health), Michelle Leibbrand (UW: early childhood and family studies), Kyle Reinke (UPS: biochemistry; German), Maggie Zach (UPS: business leadership).

Applications are now being accepted for this year's Stiefel Award. One award will be made, in the amount of $4,500.

Summary (PDF)

Application (PDF), due June 30

The late Mr. Stiefel was a longtime member of the PSA-PBK board of trustees, serving for many years as its treasurer and assistant treasurer.

Pathfinder Award Recipients 1995–2014

Nominate someone (PDF)

At the spring luncheon each year, the Puget Sound Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa honors individuals (both adult and youth), businesses, and institutions with the Pathfinder Award. The award certificate reflects the imagery on the distinguished Phi Beta Kappa key, a hand pointing to the stars. It is given to those who "encourage others to seek new worlds to discover, pathways to explore, and untouched destinations to reach." The people, businesses, and institutions honored do something to broaden peoples' interest in active intellectual accomplishment; they reach beyond ordinary routine, beyond the regular requirement of their lives and jobs, in order to break new intellectual ground and/or inspire others to do so.

HUMANITIES ACHIEVEMENT AWARDS

On the occasion of the 50th anniversary of their founding by an act of Congress and in recognition of the valuable support given by the National Endowment for the Humanities and the National Endowment for the Arts to liberal arts education, the Puget Sound Association of Phi Beta Kappa is pleased to announce the establishment of its PSA-PBK Humanities Achievement Award. It will be offered on a non-monetary, non-periodic basis to individuals or organizations whose contributions to the humanities or arts are considered to be outstanding.

The two National Endowments are dedicated to supporting research, education, preservation, and public programs in the humanities and the arts. They provide grants for high-quality projects to cultural institutions and individual scholars, and provide opportunities for life-long learning.

This non-monetary, non-periodic award is bestowed on an individual or organization who is judged to have contributed outstanding work in the humanities or arts.

The Puget Sound Association of Phi Beta Kappa wishes to recognize this person's or organization's contribution in furthering its own goals of supporting liberal arts education.

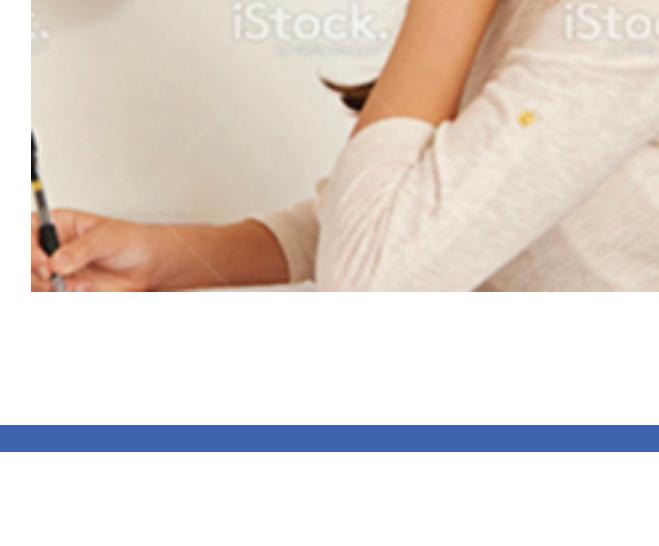

The nominee's work will have been done in one of the following fields: arts (visual and performing), comparative religion, history, jurisprudence, languages (ancient and modern), literature, philosophy, and elements of humanistic work in the social sciences.

Our inaugural award was presented at our Spring 2015 Luncheon to SPEIGHT JENKINS, for advancing the cultural life of the Pacific Northwest through education and performances of operas throughout his 31-year career as the general director of the Seattle Opera.

Schools may select multiple award recipients. However, we can only pay for the first book award per school. Additional books, with the students' names inscribed on the bookplates, may be ordered at a cost of $35 per book, including shipping and handling. You can place your order using the PayPal button below or by sending us a check.

PayPal

If you would like additional information about the High School Outreach Awards program or would like to volunteer to present books at the schools' award ceremonies in May and June, please e-mail pbkhighschoolcoord@psa-pbk.org or president@psa-pbk.org, or call Linda Willenberg at (425) 641-1606.

Each spring we award a personally inscribed book to outstanding graduating seniors in participating high schools throughout the Puget Sound area. This is one way we encourage and reward outstanding scholastic achievement in the liberal arts and sciences. High school principals and guidance counselors are asked to provide the name of one graduating senior who exemplifies what Phi Beta Kappa represents – a love of learning – as demonstrated by their academic achievement as well as a record of service to others.

Among the books we have chosen in the past are Timothy Egan's Short Nights of the Shadow Catcher: The Epic Life and Immortal Photographs of Edward Curtis; James Gleick's The Information: A History, a Theory, a Flood; Walter Isaacson's Einstein: His Life and Universe; Gordon S. Wood's Empire of Liberty: A History of the Early Republic; and Daniel James Brown's The Boys in the Boat.
